Dear [Hiring Manager Name],

I am writing to express my interest in the Physical Therapist Occupational Health Coordinator position at [Company Name]. With a background in clinical physical therapy and a specialized focus on workplace ergonomics and injury prevention, I am eager to leverage my expertise to optimize the health and productivity of your workforce.

In my previous roles, I have successfully balanced direct patient care with administrative coordination. My experience includes conducting comprehensive functional capacity evaluations (FCEs), designing tailored return-to-work programs, and implementing proactive injury prevention strategies. I am proficient in analyzing workplace biomechanics and collaborating with multidisciplinary teams to ensure compliance with OSHA standards and internal safety protocols.

At [Company Name], I am particularly drawn to your commitment to [mention a specific company value or program]. I am confident that my ability to bridge the gap between clinical rehabilitation and corporate health management will make me a valuable asset to your Occupational Health department.

Key qualifications I bring to this role include:

- [Years] of experience in Physical Therapy with a focus on industrial rehabilitation.
- Proven track record in reducing Workers' Compensation costs and lost-time injuries.
- Strong communication skills for coordinating between employees, physicians, and management.
- Expertise in ergonomic assessments and workplace safety training.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to the possibility of discussing how my clinical background and organizational skills can support the health initiatives at [Company Name].

Sincerely,

[Your Signature (if sending by mail)]
