Dear Members of the Admissions Committee,

RE: Application for Master of Public Health ([Concentration Name, if applicable])

[Introductory paragraph: State your intent to apply, your current academic/professional standing, and the specific reason why this program aligns with your career goals.]

[Academic Background: Detail your undergraduate degree, relevant coursework in sciences or statistics, and any academic honors or research projects that prepared you for graduate-level public health study.]

[Professional and Volunteer Experience: Describe your work in clinical settings, community outreach, health policy, or NGOs. Highlight specific skills gained, such as data analysis, program implementation, or health education.]

[Statement of Purpose: Explain your specific interest in public health (e.g., epidemiology, global health, biostatistics). Discuss a particular public health challenge you wish to address and how this program's curriculum and faculty will help you achieve that.]

[Conclusion: Reiterate your enthusiasm for the program and your commitment to contributing to the university community. Thank the committee for their time and consideration.]

Sincerely,
